Zion Church Prospers Under
Dr. B. W. Swain.

HIS MINISTERIAL CAREER.

Features of Work at the A. M. E. Zion Church in Boston and What Its Pastor Has Accomplished the Past Two Years—Warm Friend of the Young People.

By CLEVELAND G. ALLEN.

Boston.—One of the ablest and most progressive of the A. M. E. Zion churchmen in this section is the Rev. Dr. B. W. Swain, the popular pastor of the Columbus Avenue A. M. E. Zion church of this city. Dr. Swain since becoming pastor of this church has won the confidence and esteem of the public. The personality of Dr. Swain has been keenly felt, and today the church enjoys the most prosperous period of its long history.

In the short period of two years the church has undergone an almost complete reorganization.

The success of Dr. Swain's pastorate at this church has been that he has sought to build up every department and to touch the lives of the young people. The church is one of the largest and most beautiful of the Zion edifices and has a seating capacity of 1,200. It is valued at $100,000 and has a membership of 800.

The ability of the pastor as a financier is seen in the success that has come to him, in the large amounts he has raised. During the two years of his pastorate he has raised $16,373.44. The Sunday school has an enrollment of 488 pupils, and the Christian Endeavor society, which is one of the most active of the church auxiliaries, has a membership of 200. One of the inspiring features of the work of this church is the Young Men's Bible class, which has a membership of 150 thrifty young men.

These young men are influencing the lives of other young men of the city in a most helpful way. They have been the means of inducing many of them to join the church.

The pastor is always ready and willing to accord the young folks a place in all departments of the church; hence a lively interest in the work is kept up the year round. As a race man Dr. Swain is alert to the best interest of our people along all lines of useful endeavor. He is a member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Equal Rights league and the New England Suffrage league.

The Rev. B. W. Swain was born in Southport, N. C., and received the rudiments of his early education in the public schools of his native town. He studied theology under the Rev. Drs. Huntington and F. T. Sanderson, two of the ablest theologians and preachers of their day. Dr. Swain has been very successful in Johnston, N. Y.; Paterson, N. J.; Worcester, Mass.; Hartford, Conn., and in Virginia. He is well known in the A. M. E. Zion connection and bids fair to rise to still greater heights in the work of the denomination.

THE CHICAGO EXPOSITION.

Commission to Arrange Celebration Issues First Annual Report.

The Illinois commission appointed by Governor Edward F. Dunne for the purpose of arranging for the fiftieth anniversary celebration of the freedom of the colored people in the United States has made its first annual report. The commission was appointed in July, 1913, under an act of the forty-eighth general assembly. The exhibition will be held in the Coliseum building in Chicago, opening about the 1st of August, 1915. One of the features of the celebration will be a series of congresses showing the educational, religious, sociological, agricultural and industrial progress of the race since the civil war.

Chicago and Cook county have appointed committees to assist the state commission in gathering suitable material for the exhibits, and a congressional committee has before it a bill for $150,000 to defray the expenses of the exposition. The commission has experienced some difficulty in the beginning of its work in getting such material for exhibit as it wishes, but this drawback has been overcome, and the work is moving forward smoothly.

More than 200 models of inventions by colored Americans have been loaned by the patent office in Washington for the use of the commission in the arrangement and classification of the various exhibits. The coming year therefore should mean much to the race in effort, inspiration and hope. Several of the large business, civic and religious organizations among our people will doubtless hold their annual meetings in Chicago during the month of August.

The commission is composed of Edward F. Dunne, governor of Illinois; the Right Rev. Samuel Fallows, Mrs. Susan Lawrence Joerg-Dahl, Major George W. Ford, the Rev. A. J. Carey, John Dalley, W. Duff Pierce, R. R. Jackson, Medill McCormick, William C. Niblack, vice president and title officer of the Chicago Title and Trust company. Thomas Wallace Swann is the secretary.

ADVANCING IN BUSINESS.

Big Enterprise in Los Angeles, Cal., Managed by Eastern Men.

The American Negro, thought at one time to be contented to occupy the limited sphere of servility and deemed fitted only for menial occupations, is gradually proving himself worthy of a higher estimate in the public view. The records in the United States patent office at Washington tell the story of his inventions, while a most comprehensive and satisfactory review of his progress in the commercial world is given in the annual meetings of the National Negro Business league.

Notwithstanding the fact that there are still doubting Thomases as to the Negro's capacity for civilization, evidences are everywhere to be seen of substantial advancement in the professional and other avenues of American life. There are many unique cases in every part of the country, however, of colored men gaining headway in worthy enterprises, unnoticed and unidentified by their own people. Such examples of success when discovered should serve as a stimulus to other aspiring members of the race, for the inherent capacities of our people need but favorable opportunity for development, as some of these instances show.

In Los Angeles, Cal., is located one of the most remarkable electrical concerns operated by Negroes in the United States. The chief promoters, Charles R. Anderson, president and treasurer, and W. H. Davis, secretary and manager, are doing fine work. Both are Boston men. Other officers are: Charles F. West, vice president; J. Harmon Wilson, engineer, and W. C. T. Durant, office manager.

The success of the enterprise is due largely to the industry and keen business perception of the president and the secretary. The experimental stage has been passed. The company's growth in the confidence of an important branch of the commercial world has demonstrated the merit of its output and the efficiency of its management. Success can hardly be attained under our present competitive system except upon merit and efficiency.

Up to the present time the company has expended nearly $20,000 in establishing the business. Last December, at an expense of $5,000, the company sent its president and an electrical engineer to Chicago for the purpose of obtaining the best material possible with which to operate its plant. The trip to Chicago proved a great success. The representatives of the company returned and, with new zeal and enthusiasm, started out to equip the concern with the most modern machinery.

Savannah Tribune Thirty Years Old.

The Savannah (Ga.) Tribune celebrates its thirtieth anniversary by issuing a thirty-two page edition fully illustrated from photographs showing its building and office force, the Wage Earners' Loan and Investment company, the First Baptist church, which was established in Savannah in 1788; the Pilgrim Life Insurance company, the new Cuyler Street school, closing scene at the St. Benedict school, the new Masonic temple, the Carnegie library, the Charity hospital, main building and operating room; the Eureka Aid and Athletic association, scores of pictures of successful business, professional and secret society men and women and many of the religious and fraternal buildings owned by the race. The whole edition reflects credit upon Editor Sol C. Johnson and his capable force of clerks, correspondents and general assistants. There is also a wealth of good paying advertising matter. Editor Johnson is a member of the National Negro Press association.

SLAVE TRADE IN AMERICA.

Georgia Received Last Cargo of Slaves, Says Southern Paper.

The Mobile (Ala.) Register, in an editorial reference to a new book called "Historic Sketches of the South," by Miss E. L. Roche of Mobile, states that these "sketches" are "confining to a review of the beginning of Negro slavery in America, the early legislation against the slave trade, and the conditions of the trade with America, as an introduction, to an account of the voyage of the Chlotilde, the last slave trading venture undertaken, and its results." It is not quite correct to describe the voyage of the Chlotilde as the last slave trading venture. There was a still later one, and Georgia, not Alabama, received the very last cargo of slaves from Africa.

The slave Chlotilde landed 175 Negroes from Africa near Mobile in 1838. In December of the same year the slaver Wanderer, sailing under the flag of the New York Yacht club, landed 750 slaves from the Congo, near Brunswick, on the Georgia coast. The Wanderer landed 600 more slaves from the Congo on the Georgia coast in the following year—1839. Stephen A. Douglass declared in a public speech that he believed 15,000 Negro slaves were smuggled into the United States in 1839, but so far as we know, the only importation on record for that year was the Wanderer's second cargo of 600. It is at least certain that the Wanderer was actively engaged in the outlawed business in the year after the minor exploit of the Chlotilde.

It is related that the 750 Negroes first landed by the Wanderer in December, 1838, were sent up the Satilla and Savannah rivers and scattered over the state of Georgia, and that these slaves were sold at $500 to $700 apiece, although they cost only a few beads and red handkerchiefs. (The American Slave Trade, John R. Spears, pp. 199-208.)

In a speech delivered at August, Ga., July 2, 1839, Alexander H. Stephens, without referring to the successful smuggling expeditions of the Wanderer and the Chlotilde, boldly suggested the desirability of a reopening of the African slave trade which had ceased as a lawful enterprise in 1808 by the decree of the constitution of the United States. He rejoiced that the slavery institution was apparently more strongly fortified than it ever had been, as a result of the agitation following the compromise of 1850. "Questions that were doubtful and mooted before these agitations have since been settled," he said, "settled by all the departments of the government," referring to Chief Justice Taney's decision in the Dred Scott case and the triumph of the "popular sovereignty" plan for the territories.

But the advantage gained would be fruitless, he thought, without "an increase of African slaves from abroad." "It takes people to make states," he said, "and it requires people of the African race to make slave states. You may not expect to see many of the territories come into the Union as slave states unless we have an increase of African stock." The attitude of Stephens was the more remarkable in view of the fact that the constitution of the Southern Confederacy, adopted two years later, forbade the reopening of the African slave trade, and no proposition to do otherwise was even offered in the preliminary discussions.

What is chiefly interesting to us now in connection with these last importations of slaves half a century ago is the fact that the 1,350 "wild" Negroes from the Congo that were sent up the Satilla and Savannah rivers and scattered over Georgia were in most cases very young men and women, perhaps from sixteen to thirty years of age, and it is probable that not a few of them are still living, while their children and grandchildren are legion. The fact that aboriginal savagery is in many cases no more remote than that ought to be taken into account both when we pass judgment and when we consider the varied aspects of our Negro problem.

Organization Society Meets Nov. 11.

Norfolk, Va.—Much public interest is being manifested in most all sections of the state in the second annual meeting of the Negro Organization society which will be held in this city for two days, beginning on Wednesday, Nov. 11. The society acts as a clearing house for all the business, fraternal and religious organizations in the state and since its formation two years ago has accomplished great good. The society has the endorsement of Governor Stuart, Dr. H. B. Frissell of the Hampton Institute, former President William H. Taft, Dr. Booker T. Washington, Dr. Buttrick of the General Education board in New York and many other noted men. Major Robert R. Moton of the Hampton Institute is president of the society.

Music School Settlement's New Home.

The Society of the Music School Settlement in New York, of which Elizabeth L. Adams is president, is now located in its new quarters on One Hundred and Thirty-first street. J. Rosamond Johnson, the well known composer, has been appointed musical supervisor.

FINE RECORD OF PETER H. FISHER

Has Proved His Worth in Many Good Movements.

NATIVE OF OLD DOMINION.

Brooklyn.—This city has a large number of business and professional men and others who hold positions of trust and much responsibility with business concerns of great influence. In each class their advancement has been the result of their own energies, efficiency, honesty and reliability. In the latter class is found Peter H. Fisher, who has been in the employ of the Riker & Hegeman company store No. 2 in this city for the past twenty-five years.

Mr. Fisher is a native of Petersburg, Va. He came to Brooklyn when quite young. He is married and resides with his family at 579 Herkimer street. He has made a most admirable record in every line of activity in which he has engaged. In the religious, secret and benevolent society circles of this city he is well and favorably known. He is the faithful and highly esteemed clerk of the Concord Baptist Church of Christ, which position he has held for nearly thirty years.

He is one of the pioneer members of Alpha lodge 1281, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, and was for many years its treasurer. Alpha lodge is said to be one of the wealthiest lodges of the order in this section of the country. It owns real estate which is valued at many thousand dollars.

and numbers in its membership many of Brooklyn's most progressive men. For a number of years Alpha lodge owned the property at 122 Nassau street, which it sold to the city to good advantage to make way for the Manhattan bridge across the East river.

Mr. Fisher is one of the founders of the Society of the Sons of Virginia, a large and influential mutual benefit organization in this city composed of men born in Virginia or the sons of native born Virginians. He was the society's first president, serving for two consecutive years. He was nominated for a third term, but refused to accept the honor. However, he has since served as president and has held the position of financial secretary for the past two years. With such a record of activities as the foregoing to his credit those who know Mr. Fisher well are not surprised at the good name which he has made at the Riker store nor at what the Riker Record says of him under his cut in its September issue in praise of his twenty-five years' service as a Riker employee.

Under the caption "Diligent In Business" the Record says in part: It is not often in these modern days we hear of a man faithful to the same employment for twenty-five years, and when we learn of one who has for a quarter of a century rendered faithful, loyal and diligent service we feel that such service should be recognized. Peter H. Fisher, employed at store No. 2, has just completed his twenty-fifth year of continuous service in the Riker employ. Both Mr. Harlowe, his district manager, and those store managers for whom he has worked have nothing but what is good to say of Mr. Fisher.

"We are genuinely delighted to be able to congratulate this loyal Riker representative on his twenty-five years of service, and we feel sure that every Record reader will join with us in wishing for him many more happy and prosperous years of congenial service."

Musical Treat Monday Night

THE GREATEST MUSICAL PHENOMENA.

A chorus of twenty voices in plantation melodies at Corinthian Baptist church Monday night, October 26th, under the auspices of the American Beauty Embroidery Club.

As to the manner of their singing, it must be heard before it can be realized. Like the Swedish melodies of Jenny Lind, it gives a new musical idea. It has been well remarked that in some respect it disarms criticism. Such singing can only be the result of the most careful training. Special numbers aside from the chorus will be rendered by Mrs. Alberta Grubbs and Russell Smith.

Mrs. Grubbs possesses a fine voice of splendid quality and great compass which she uses with marked skill and is especially adapted to music of dramatic character. Russell Smith, the sweet tenor, is also the possessor of a splendid voice and sings in admirable style, both in song and concerted music.

Mrs. Blanch Robinson, pianist. This gifted artist besides being an excellent accompanist is also a solo player of great promise. She has had the honor of playing before the most critical audience at the world's fair in Seattle, Wash., and it is predicted by our leading musicians she will rank with the first pianist of the day. Don't fail to hear these artists for the small fee of 10 cents.

FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN FOR STATE SISTERS OF CHARITY HOSPITAL.

On Monday morning, October 26, there will be launched in this city a campaign to raise $20,000 for the State Sisters of Charity Hospital. The work will be done by twelve organized teams and will continue ten days. The institution is located at 1502 North Missouri street and was opened to the public June 15, 1911, for the purpose of taking care of sick patients coming under the direct supervision of both white and colored physicians. It was first brought to the minds of the members of the Sisters of Charity organization at the South Calvary Baptist Church by Mrs. Melinda Thomas, its first president.

During a number of meetings held to further the interest of the project relative to perfecting plans for its establishment, quite a number of citizens pledged their support together with the Colored Medical Society of this city. After persistent efforts were put forth toward perfecting plans for the institution of a Charity Hospital, they succeeded in securing the present site on which over $1,000 has been paid. The work up to the present time has come from the various subordinate charity lodges, who have responded to every call and have established auxiliaries whose efforts are worthy of much praise.

It has served a splendid purpose, accommodating diseased and sick colored people, some of whom could afford to pay a very small price, but most of them unable to pay anything. The property has been leased with an option to buy, from Mr. Victor. It is located on North Missouri street and for emergency work among the colored people could not be better placed. It covers nearly a quarter of a square and in property which will produce a rental of approximately one hundred and fifteen dollars a month, is in good repair and especially well fit for the purpose of a hospital. As a running investment it is probably easily worth from twelve to thirteen thousand dollars.

It is purely a charitable institution and the only one of its kind among our colored people and is endorsed by the Associated Charities Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The object of this campaign is to raise funds sufficient for the purchase and to remodel the present structure, making it more suitable for a first-class hospital. The institution also offers a department for the training of young women who desire to become trained nurses. It is under the direct efficient supervision of Mrs. Lulia Smith, a graduate of the Red Cross Hospital at Louisville, Ky. At this time there are three young women taking training.

The headquarters for this campaign are at the office of the L. B. Willis Undertaking Establishment, 413 West Michigan street. The several teams, with their captains, will report each evening at 5:30. W. A. Kersey is the general chairman, J. M. Porter, treasurer, Ada Goins is State President and Ella Settles, secretary.

On Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock there will be a mass meeting in the interest of the movement at Ebenezer Baptist Church and the public is invited to attend. For any and all information call West 3044, Old Main 3022, or call 413 West Michigan street.

Speaks for the Progressive Aims

William S. Henry is the only colored man on any ticket in Marion county. He is Progressive nominee for the state legislature. He is a prominent colored attorney with offices in the Holliday building.

Colored men have a chance here to show their loyalty. Mr. Henry is a man of their race; blood of their blood and bone of their bone. The best interests of the colored men in Marion county and Indiana demand that they have a representative in the legislature.

And if Mr. Henry is defeated, there will be no colored man in the 1915 legislature to look after the interests of the colored race. If bills are introduced that threaten their interests, and are passed because there is no one to fight them, colored men will have no one to blame except themselves.

The Progressive party has done all it could.

Will the colored voters of Indianapolis and Marion county support their representative and, with him, the whole Progressive ticket, so all may work together? Colored men must answer that question for themselves.

"It has been eighteen years since a colored man has been on the Republican ticket," said Mr. Henry. "The party that has pretended to be our friend has not recognized our need of representation in that time. If colored men would realize this, I do not see how they could vote the Republican ticket. Our last representative was Gabriel Jones—eighteen long years ago. The Progressives put me on the ticket this year and R. L. Brokenburr on the first ticket in 1912.

"Frank Williams, a colored attorney, was a candidate for justice of the peace in the 1910 primaries. He was beaten. There were ugly rumors that he was counted out; and I know that he and I went to the polls and asked to be present when the ballots were counted, and we were refused admission. This is the attitude of the Republican party toward us.

"I have understood that a committee of colored men called on the Republican central committee this year to ask that a colored man be placed on the ticket. The reply was that he would jeopardize the interests and success of the ticket. That was all this dead party thought about. Gone were all their promises to us; gone their friendly pretense; they would do nothing for the colored man. The Progressive party will.

"I believe I am needed in the state legislature to protect the interests of colored men. A colored Progressive was elected in Chicago two years ago. A bill was introduced in the legislature for segregation in residence districts and in public conveyances, and he was able in his first speech to get enough support to defeat it. Who knows but that something of that same nature may occur in the Indiana legislature?

"These are good reasons why I should be elected and why colored men should not vote the Republican ticket. They should vote the Progressive ticket as a whole because the party believes that equal rights and privileges should be given to all men under the law. They should vote the Progressive ticket because only under the new party can the North and South ever be united into one, for all know that the name of the Republican party is like waving a red flag at a bull. There is that sectional hatred, and only the Progressive party can remove it.

"We colored men are in the minority. Our salvation depends on our alliance with men who believe in the right, who will not permit the minority to suffer injustice, as the Republicans let us suffer; who will not forget their principles, as the Republicans forgot; who will not go mad after money, as the Republicans did twenty years ago.

"In the days of Mark Hanna the Republicans learned to buy votes, and, because they could buy enough to carry elections, they paid no attention to their pledges and duties toward the weaker minority. We must denounce the party where we have no representation. Neither do the Democrats care for us. One colored man, for example, aspired to a Democratic nomination, and a footnote at the bottom of the list of candidates, saying that he was a colored man, was intended to prejudice the people against him. "Our only hope is in the Progressive party. I am the only colored man on any ticket. A vote by colored men for me and the rest of the Progressive ticket is a vote for justice to the Negro."

Mr. Henry was born February 1, 1873, on a Virginia plantation. Both his parents had been slaves. Mr. Henry was educated in the public schools of his home county, but had to leave school when 17 years old to help his father on the plantation, and his education was stopped temporarily.

But he did not give up, and, when 20 years old, he left Virginia for New York, where he found a job in a brick yard. He saved his wages and matriculated at the Virginia Normal Collegiate Institute at Petersburg, when he was 22. He worked in the brick yard in the summer and attended school in the winter, and was graduated in May, 1899, with second honors.

Mr. Henry taught school in Virginia three years before he came to Indianapolis. In 1908, he was graduated from the legal department of the International Correspondence Schools and, after reading law under two able lawyers of Marion county, he was admitted to the bar January 9, 1909.

Mr. Henry was a Republican before he became a Progressive. He never has been a candidate for public office. He is married and has an adopted child. He is a Baptist and for eight years was trustee and superintendent of the Sunday school of the Union Tabernacle Baptist church. He is a member of the colored Masons and Shriners.

FOR SHERIFF

THEODORE PORTEUS FOR SHERIFF HAS MADE GOOD.

A Man Who Believes a Public Office a Public Trust Has Made a Model Sheriff.

At the coming election the people of Marion county will have an opportunity to cast their votes for the election of a man whom they think is the best fitted and qualified to manage and supervise the duties of the office of sheriff.

It is plainly seen that the sheriff's office has many duties and large responsibilities, and for this reason the taxpayers should see to it that this office is kept in the hands of an honest, trustworthy and efficient servant. If the people are not willing to nominate a man whom they have already found and know to be "tried and true to their interests," then they will be remiss in their duty to themselves.

Mr. Porteus is 54 years of age, and was born in Franklin county, Indiana, July 24, 1859. After leaving the farm he clerked in a hardware store for two years. After becoming a traveling salesman he moved to Indianapolis in 1885, where he has lived ever since. He is a member of the Indiana and Old Hickory Democratic Clubs, as well as a member of the F. and A. M., I. O. O. F., K. of P., Moose, Buffalo and other fraternal organizations.

He was elected to the city council from the ninth ward in November, 1905, notwithstanding the ward was strongly Republican, and served throughout the years of 1906 to 1909 with credit to himself and his party. When Mr. Porteus was candidate for sheriff two years ago the Indianapolis News said: "Theodore Porteus was a member of the city council until he became deputy sheriff and was one of the few members of the council against whom no charge was ever made of crookedness or questionable practices. He came through with a clean record."

Mr. Porteus, since his election, has been the real sheriff of Marion county. He is the first sheriff in the history of the county who has given his undivided attention to the management and supervision of the business of this office.

After the election of Mr. Porteus as sheriff the State Board of Accounts examined the books in the sheriff's office for the four years that he acted as chief deputy, and found that all the money collected by him had been properly accounted for and turned over to the county treasurer.

Business in the sheriff's office has been kept up to date, and everybody with business to transact has had prompt, careful and courteous attention.

Mr. Porteus has employed more deputies and has paid them larger salaries than any other sheriff in Marion county.

Mr. Porteus has employed a corps of deputies who have been trained to his own ideals of efficiency, exactness and conscientiousness in the performance of their duties.

The jail has been kept clean, sanitary and free from vermin. The clothing of the prisoners is disinfected in an apparatus installed by the sheriff.

NOTICE!

After careful consideration of the charge against the Dumas Club of operating a blind tiger, the following decision was handed down by Judge Markey of the Marion County Criminal Court:

"The defendant in this case, James Hightower, is a representative and part of the Dumas Club, and after a thorough investigation of this club I find that the personnel thereof is composed of citizens of good repute and men highly respected among their race. Viewed from a hypothetical standpoint, I see no more reason for objections on the part of our citizens against the existence of such an institution among the colored gentlemen than there would be against a similar institution among white people."

"I would consider it an aspersion upon the good colored people of our city to question their motive in maintaining said institution. It is beyond the province of this court to administer threats against any individual or corporate body of individuals when same are living within the law. It is the burden of our office to deal with transgressors of the law, be they the acts of separate persons or a collective body of persons acting as a moral person. In view of which the court does not feel justified in presuming any unworthy motives on the part of the members of the Dumas Club in maintaining said institution. The judgment of the court is that the defendant be found not guilty and he be discharged."

Washington.—A bulletin on Negroes in the United States will be issued at an early date by William J. Harris, director of the census, department of commerce, which will contain all the principal information obtained through the census regarding the number and distribution of the Negroes, their rate of increase, their sex and age distribution and their marital condition. Figures for illiteracy and school attendance and the occupations of Negroes will also be presented.

The bulletin will show that the number of Negroes in the United States (exclusive of outlying possessions) in 1910 was 9,827,763, and they formed 10.7 per cent of the total population. In 1900 the number of Negroes was 8,833,994, or 11.6 per cent of the total population of that date. The increase among the Negroes during the decade was 993,769, or 11.2 per cent, as compared with an increase of 20.8 per cent among the native whites and of 30.7 per cent among the foreign born whites.

The growth of the Negro population results from their own natural increase, while the growth of the white population is accelerated by the great influx of immigrants and the high birth rate in immigrant families. Of the total number of Negroes in 1910 about one-fifth were reported as mulatto—that is, as having some white blood. The proportion that mulattoes formed of the total Negro population increased from 12 per cent in 1870 to 15.2 per cent in 1890 and to 20.9 per cent in 1910.

Per Cent of the Rural Population.

Nearly three-fourths of the Negroes (7,138,534, or 72.6 per cent) were rural dwellers, while about one-fourth (2,689,229, or 27.4 per cent) lived in towns or cities of at least 2,500 inhabitants. The Negroes formed 14.5 per cent of the rural population of the United States, as compared with 6.3 per cent of the urban. In the southern states the great majority of the Negroes lived in rural districts, while of the Negroes of the north and of the west a large proportion were city dwellers.

In 1910 there were 4,885,881 Negro males in the United States, as compared with 4,941,882 Negro females, the number of males to 100 females thus being 98.9, as compared with a ratio of 106 for the whites. The Negroes were the only race in the United States in which there were more females than males.

The age distribution of the Negroes does not differ materially from that of the native whites.

The Negro males in the United States of voting age numbered 2,458,873 in 1910, and the Negro females of voting age numbered 2,427,742.

School Attendance and Illiteracy.

Of the Negroes six to nine years of age 498,954, or 49.3 per cent, were reported as having attended school during the school year 1909-10; of those ten to fourteen years of age, 791,995, or 68.6 per cent, were so reported, and those fifteen to twenty years of age, 338,750, or 26.5 per cent. In each age group the percentage of school attendance was much lower for the Negroes than for the whites.

Of the total number of Negroes ten years of age and over, 2,227,781, or 80.4 per cent, were reported as illiterate. Among the whites the percentage of illiteracy was 5, being 3 among native whites and 12.7 among foreign born whites. The percentage of illiteracy among Negroes decreased from 57.1 in 1890 to 44.5 in 1900, and to 30.4 in 1910. The bulletin will contain information by states, and also by counties about Negroes in agriculture. The total number of farms operated by Negroes in 1910 was $93,370. Of this number 218, 972 were operated by their owners, 672,964 by tenants and 1,434 by managers. The number of farms owned by Negroes increased by 81,175, or 16.6 per cent, between 1900 and 1910, and the number of Negro tenants increased by 115,790, or 20.8 per cent, during the decade.

Increase in Value of Farm Property.

The total value of farm property operated by Negroes in 1910 was $1,144,181,000 as compared with $499,941,000 in 1900, indicating that the value of agricultural property operated by Negroes increased considerably more than twofold during the decade. The statistics show that 1,806,727 Negro males and 1,050,849 Negro females were engaged in agriculture.

The data will be shown for the registration area of the United States, which includes the registration states and certain selected cities. The death rate among Negroes in 1910 in this area was 25.5 per 1,000, showing a decrease as compared with the rate in 1900, which was 29.4, and the death rates for 1910 show many decreases, especially in the southern municipalities.

Woman Finally Recovers From Nervous Breakdown

Impoverished nerves destroy many people before their time. Often before a sufferer realizes what the trouble is, he is on the verge of a complete nervous breakdown. It is of the utmost importance to keep your nervous system in good condition, as the nerves are the source of all bodily power. Mrs. Rosa Bonner, 825 N. 18th St., Birmingham, Ala., says:

"I have been suffering with nervous prostration for nine or ten years. Have tried many of the best doctors in Birmingham, but they all failed to reach my case. I would feel as if I was smothering; finally I went into convulsions. My little girl saw advised in the papers and I at once began to take it. I continued to take it for some time and now I am well."

If you are troubled with loss of appetite, poor digestion, weakness, inability to sleep; if you are in a general run down condition and unable to bear your part of the daily grind of life, you need something to strengthen your nerves. You may not realize what is the matter with you, but that is no reason why you should delay treatment.

Dr. Miles' Nerve

has proven its value in nervous disorders for thirty years, and merits a trial, no matter how many other remedies have failed to help you. Sold by all druggists. If first bottle fails to benefit your money is returned.

A GREAT STORM.

On Friday afternoon, the 16th inst., when the sky was clear and all was quietness at 621 Dorman street, a cloud arose and about 10:30 p. m. there was a great storm. Some of the brethren had sent a load of fuel early in the evening, and late in the evening a noise was heard at the door. It was the voice of a multitude of Christian men and women of Corinthian Baptist Church singing "Showers of Blessings." We hurriedly opened the door and they began marching in, like unto a mighty army of soldiers. The line of march was headed by the officers of the church. Then came the officers' wives, and there also followed a large number of members.

It seemed as though they would never cease entering, and a great storm was on. But after the storm was over we were very proud to realize on our dining table a great number of articles which could be prepared for digestion and also many other useful household goods, which we very highly appreciate and for which we are very grateful. A very spicy impromptu program was rendered, after which our friends departed. We were never so greatly surprised as we were at that time. The Lord is with us at Corinthian and we are sure that He will help us to accomplish that which is well pleasing in His sight. We have a unified board and a loyal membership. We invite you to come and be with us in our services. Respectfully,

VOL. W. McLAVER, Pastor.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

One of the many interesting departments of work to which a large number of men are being attracted, is the Tuesday night Bible class. On last Tuesday 35 men were seated at 6:30 p. m. around a specially prepared table, giving them a 30 minute social intercourse, preliminary to their Bible study work which closes promptly at 7:45 p. m. The Sunday school teachers and student class conducted on Thursday evening under the leadership of Rev. H. L. Herod, continues to attract a large number of ladies who are qualifying toward the holding of bigger positions in Bible teaching elsewhere. Dr. W. E. Brown will lecture on next Tuesday evening to the Senior Gym. class. Subject, "Coughs, Colds and Catarrh."

The Educational classes are meeting the needs of the community through the training being given to men along many lines of helpful trades. The newest among those offered is a special course in tailoring.

The association is pleased to announce the organization of a new club in conjunction with the work now being carried on in the junior department. On Thursday afternoon a large number of ladies were in attendance at the Y. M. C. A. educational parlors to witness the installation of officers, which was performed by Mr. G. L. Knox, president of the association. The name of the new club is the "Mothers' Aid Society" and the personnel of officials consists of the following named persons: Mrs. Bessie Whiteside, president; Mrs. James Nicholson, vice; Mrs. Emma Floyd, sec.; Mrs. Elizabeth Bybee, assistant sec.; Mrs. Mayme Gardner, treasurer.

The work of the club will be carried on mainly through the efforts of parents, who are interested in the junior membership of the association. The members of the Junior Band and Boy Scouts are endeavoring to purchase uniforms at an early date. The work of these two organizations is being planned to meet the demands of the association and such religious or civic organizations where their services may prove worthy.

GEORGE W. BROWN

Progressive Nominee for COUNTY TREASURER

MY PLATFORM: The Office of County Treasurer has to do with the proper collection, safe guarding and disbursement of about—
Five Millions of Dollars Annually of Funds of the Taxpayers

It should not be locked upon as a political office. Considerable sums of this trust may be diverted by technical means to ill-advantage of our citizens by a faithless or partisan-minded trustee. The tax payer is interested too in not being taken advantage of by lax methods of notices, and should receive wherever possible, more extended courtesies, such as ought to prevail toward those who pay their hard-earned money into the Treasury. The taxpayer for the most part, pays his lawful proportion willingly and he has the right to expect that the funds shall be scrupulously and honestly administered.

This I Pledge Myself to Do, if Elected.

The sick are being healed, devils cast out, sinners saved, prodigals are returning to the Lord and being baptized with the Holy Ghost and the poor are having the gospel preached unto them. Lesson IV.—Fourth Quarter, For Oct. 25, 1914.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xxvi, 47-50; xxvii, 3-10—Memory Verses, Matt. xxvii, 3-5—Golden Text, Matt. xxvi, 24. Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Here is another instance of God and the devil face to face, as in the temptation in the wilderness (chapter iv), after the baptism at the Jordan. But there it was the devil in his own person, while here it is the devil in Judas Iscariot. First the devil put the thought into the heart of Judas, and later he entered in himself (John xiii, 2, 27). If we would be overcomers we must resist the thoughts that are evil. It is encouraging to know that if we resist the devil he will flee from us (Jas. iv, 7; 1 Pet. v, 8, 9). We must bear in mind that our great daily conflict is not so much with the visible in the form of people or circumstances as with the rulers of the darkness of this world, wicked spirits in the heavenlies (Eph. vi, 12), and we certainly need the whole armor of God to be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

Some one has said that as this was the greatest piece of work the devil ever undertook he could not trust it to any of his followers, and so entered into Judas himself. It was a host of the devil's followers, including the chief priests, elders and scribes, who came with Judas as their leader, for our Lord had said to them earlier in His ministry, "Ye are of your father the devil" (John viii, 44).

It is written that the way in which the betrayer knew where to find Jesus was because He oftentimes resorted thither with His disciples (John xviii, 2). "The wicked (one) watcheth the righteous and seeketh to slay him" (Ps. cxviii, 32), and he seems to know our resorts and our weaknesses. Judas had told the band of followers that he would indicate the man they wanted by kissing Him. This he did, and Jesus suffered it, simply saying, "Judas, betrayest thou the Son of Man with a kiss?" (Luke xxii, 48.) How much He bore for our sakes, but how little we seem able to bear for Him! Knowing all things that should come upon Him, He went forth to meet His enemies and said, "Whom seek ye?" They answered, "Jesus of Nazareth," to which He replied, "I am."

Then happened a wonderful thing, an instance of His power, an illustration of the fact that not all the soldiers on earth could take Him if He had not been willing. They went backward and fell to the ground (John xviii, 4-6). They would never have risen again if He had not permitted, but would have been like the army of Sennacherib, all dead men (II Kings xix, 35). He allowed them to rise up and come again and take Him. It was then that Peter in his zeal blundered with his sword and took off a man's ear, but our Lord gently rebuked Peter and healed the ear.

How often by our blunderings we hinder people from hearing the gospel! It may be by untimely zeal or by some inconsistency or some un-Christianlike word or deed suggested by the devil.

In following lessons we will take up the story of Jesus and Peter and Jesus before Pilate, but now we are asked to continue the story of Judas until the end of his earthly career as recorded in chapter xxvii, 3-10, this portion of the record being found only here. The seeming change in Judas was when he saw that Jesus was actually condemned. Is it possible that, having seen so much of the power of Jesus Christ and remembering the day when He quietly slipped away from the hands of the people of Nazareth and perhaps recalling His words that no man could take His life from Him (John x, 18), he did not believe that He would ever let His enemies kill Him? He could make a little money and then fool the high priests and others by seeing Jesus take Himself out of their power.

I cannot tell what His thoughts were, but I cannot forget the words, "It had been good for that man if he had not been born" (Matt. xxvi, 24). The pieces of silver remind us of the money received by Joseph's brethren when they sold him, and also of the prediction in Zech. xi, 12. Verse 9 of our lesson is a little perplexing, as it is said there that the words about the pieces of silver were spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, yet we find them written in Zechariah, not Jeremiah. Our lesson does not say they were written, but spoken, by Jeremiah. If Jeremiah spoke them and Zechariah wrote them, that would clear it all up. Some day we will know, if necessary.

The words of Judas in verse 4, "I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood," are to my mind one of the strongest testimonies on record to the holiness of the Lord Jesus—the testimony of one possessed by the devil, who was in a sense one of the twelve and knew the inner life of the little company and would have seen any flaw in the life of the Lord Jesus if there had been any.

I have often wondered if he was chosen that he might leave this testimony on record. The elders and high priests seemed glad to have dealings with him when he offered to betray Jesus, but now that he seems to have changed his mind they throw him off with the words, "What is that to us? See thou to that."

SATURDAY NIGHT

SERMONS

BY
REV. SAMUEL W. PURVIS, D.D.

Text, "Never man spake like this man."—John vii, 46.

Jesus was a popular preacher. Crowds flocked to hear him. The synagogue was full when he spoke. Town and village flocked to the fields when he spoke there. The beach was crowded when he spoke from the prow of Simon Peter's fishing boat. The farmer left his plow, the fisherman his boat, the woman her kneading trough, the tax gatherer his booth. Rich men like Nicodemus and Joseph of Arimathea listened secretly, the common people heard him gladly. The high priests came to the conclusion that they must silence him or they themselves would soon be overthrown. The very sanhedrin itself would soon go down before this new leader who had such eloquence of word and spirit, such fascination and charm of soul, that the multitude were carried away by his addresses. So they sent their police to arrest him. The officers waited too long before acting. If they had gone up to him while he was silent, but they were curious to hear him speak. In a short while his arrest at their hands was no longer a part of their day's work. He had arrested them! They came back to their superior officers empty handed. "Why have ye not brought him?" they inquired. "Never man spake like this man," was the answer. Then the Pharisees sneered in their faces and said, "Are ye also deceived?"

The Art of Arts.

Not all great men are speakers. Washington never made a speech. In the zenith of his fame he once tried it, failed and gave it up, confused and abashed. Jefferson never made a speech. Grant was "the silent man of Galena." Napoleon, whose abilities as an executive were unparalleled, couldn't talk before an audience. Men are "born orators?" Not any more than "born doctors" or "born lawyers." There are of course an inherent capability and capacity with some, but beyond all that it is an accomplishment, an art, a science. It is the one masterful art that can be acquired. The public speaker dominates those who hear him, convinces their reason, controls their judgment, compels their action. He is their master. Patrick Henry and Nathan Hale each was immortalized by a single sentence. A great parliamentary reputation was built on a single speech by a man who had wit enough to keep silence afterward. Part of a great evangelist's attraction is that folks like to see and hear a real live man in action, talking in the vernacular of the common people. The bearing and the manner are often more eloquent and more truthful than the tongue. The speaking eyes, the telltale cheeks—the living man.

The Great Preacher.

Three elements combine to make eloquence—a great occasion, a great theme, a great personality. Lincoln at Gettysburg, Webster at Bunker Hill, Beecher at Manchester, Chatham in parliament. When John Randolph was about to die he said to his fellow seafarers, "Lift me up." They lifted him, "I want to hear that voice!" "Whose?" "Henry Clay's." Then he was willing to die. The occasion brings eloquence. Christ's occasion was the need of humanity; His theme, the kingdom of God—at hand. He spoke of the great questions that belong to all time and ages. He talked of God and man. He took God out of the clouds and pitched his tents close to the tents of men. He spoke about humanity. He put a new meaning in the word "neighbor." His personality was unique. He was filled with the spirit he sought to impart to others. The secret of pulpit power and eloquence is not in the teaching of the schools, though that is useful. To teach theology is not to preach religion. Wesley and Whitefield were great preachers—one Arminian, the other Calvinist. Massillon and Melancthon—one was Roman Catholic, the other Protestant. Authority, sympathy, love of nature, profound spiritual experience, love of humanity, God in the soul. These are the fundamentals of oratory.

Christ the Conversationalist.

The Master was not a Demosthenes with "action" for his three rules of oratory. He did not depend for his power on dramatic effects. He taught often sitting down. He didn't captivate his audience by oratorical splendor. His power wasn't primarily intellectual, not the dialogues of Plato or the philosophy of Hegel or Kant. Most of his teaching was conversational. Colloquial talks with men rather than set speeches. Only about five of his discourses can properly be called sermons. Yet he continually dealt with the greatest problems of human life. What is the object of life; the secret of happiness, of wholeness, holiness of character; the duty of man; the issue of life; the outcome of the drama of human history? His parables are interpretation of great spiritual truths. His conversations with Nicodemus and the woman of Samaria are rich in food value. His table talks at the dinner feasts are uplifting. Would that we could take our profitless exchange of empty phrases in conversation and vitalize them. Not all can be orators; all can reach the human heart through the common medium of everyday speech.

TERRE HAUTE, IND.

Mrs. Laura Joiner, Mrs. Nina Bell and Miss Irwin are on the sick list. The first and last named persons have been ill for several months. Rev. W. C. Irwin preached two able and instructive sermons at Allen Chapel on last Sunday morning and evening. A large and appreciative audience greeted him each time. Rev. Irwin is the right man in the right place, we think. We predict for him a pleasant and successful year's work. Of course the debt of the church is heavy but by careful management the debt can be greatly reduced this year. Rev. M. W. Sparks and Geo. Fisher were the principal speakers at the Republican speaking last Wednesday evening at Lafayette and Care avenue hall. All the county candidates were present. Those who attended the services at the Free Will Baptist church last Sunday were greatly pleased with all of them. Rev. A. L. Clark preached in the morning and Rev. McIntosh preached a powerful sermon at night. The S. S. was well attended and was addressed by Mrs. E. Z. Keller, of Indianapolis. The E. was well attended and was addressed by Mrs. Vaughn, of St. Louis. The collection for the day was $21.50. Vico grows fine peaches. That peaches thrive in Vigo county is proven by Mrs. Carrie Wilson of 614 South Second street. Mrs. Wilson is exhibiting samples of fruit grown on a tree that she raised from seed, which are nine inches in circumference. The fruit ripened very late this year, but is of unusually fine quality. Mrs. Wilson is a colored woman. The services at the Second Missionary Baptist church Sunday were the best in the history of the church. They had covenant meeting in the morning and preaching at night. The S. S. was largely attended and the interest was above par. The collection at this church during the day from all sources was over $20. Six persons were fellowshipped into the church in the morning. The parsonage is being remodeled and when done will be one of the best parsonages in the city. Rev. Hammonds lectured at Princeton, Ind., on Wednesday night. Subject, "Possibilities for the Young." He preached for Rev. Clark of the Baptist church on Thursday night at the same place. The reception for the normal students and city teachers at the Missionary Baptist church last evening was one of the finest and most pleasant affairs that has been given in Terre Haute for a long time. A good program was rendered and refreshments served. This church has an eye to business. Rev. Hammonds the worthy and wide-awake pastor, is doing a grand work. The church is in fine spiritual condition. Over 40 persons attended the mid-week prayer meeting last week. We are highly pleased to hear of the good work that is going on in all the churches. Rev. Irwin's daughter, Mrs. Estella Twines is quite ill at her father's home at the parsonage in our city. The Sewing Circle of Allen Chapel met at Mrs. Grove's this week. The Banking Club met with Miss Goldie Barnes this week at the home of Mrs. Alvira Washington. Mrs. Lina Graves Johnson was accidentally killed by the west bound passenger train on the Van near 22d street on last Friday evening. She was about 32 years old. Her body was shipped to Mexico, Mo., her old home on last Sunday. She leaves a husband, father, one sister and four brothers to mourn her demise. Green & Co., undertakers, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bradford, of Springfield, Ill., are in our city giving vocal and musical recitals at the churches. They both come well prepared and recommended. One of the finest hotels or institutions in the middle west has been built on Cherry and Sixth streets during the summer and fall. The grand opening was on last Tuesday evening. The only colored help found in this hotel is in the dining room by the colored waiters. Demas Demming, one of our wealthiest citizens, built it at an expense of $500,000. Mrs. Rosa Hill, mother of Mrs. Barbara Scott, is quite ill at her daughters. Mrs. Clara Green and Mrs. Ella Green, of Chicago, are at the bedside of their mother, Mrs. Hill. Mrs. Mary Douglas, of Gilbert avenue, dropped dead on last Sunday at her home. She had been complaining of not feeling well, but nothing serious. She was preparing to call on her cousin in the city when she fell. She was a member of the Free Will Baptist church. Her funeral was preached by Rev. John Brown at the church on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Hill, father of Mrs. Bishop Sims, and a resident of Illinois, is visiting his daughter for a few days this week. Ira Shearer has been suffering with a sprained wrist or several days, which kept him from his carpentry. He spent four years in Hampton institution learning this trade. He and James Henson are the contractors on the Allen A. M. E. church. If you want to see a pretty backyard go to Prof. Jackson's, 1930 Spruce street, and you will see it. He recently received a prize from the City Civic League of our city for having the prettiest kept backyard in the city.

ANDERSON ITEMS.

What may be taken as a sign of improvement in the Anderson folk is the keen interest being taken in the night school classes. There are colored students in almost every class now being taught, which includes languages, shorthand and stenography, mathematics, printing, dressmaking, millinery and many other classes not here mentioned. This system of securing an education along different lines is so widely known that to be a graduate of these classes is an honor as well as an equipment in life often not easily secured. Mrs. Charles Robinson spent Sunday and Monday with Mrs. Dudley, enroute from Logansport, where she and her husband had visited their daughter, Mrs. Means. Mrs. Fannie Richardson, formerly of this city, was also the Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley. Edward Turner is seriously ill of stomach trouble at his home here, and his relatives have been called here. His condition is regarded as critical. The Dunbar concert given here Thursday evening at Allen Chapel proved a grand success. Beauty culture which is becoming a favorable vocation for women is taking a strong hold with the women of this city. Mrs. James Kirtley, who has for a number of years successfully devoted her time to this profession, is located in the Union block in a parlor well and beautifully equipped and gives employment to a number of girls of her race. Mrs. Esther Tompkins, a recent graduate of Witt beauty culture classes, is also making a progress which speaks well for her. Miss Ethel Minfield is taking a course under Dr. Charles Fossett, of Muncie. Miss Hanna Irvin entertained the Woman's Culture Club on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Hill in West 13th street. Mrs. Rosa Webb is at home from visit in Richmond and Dayton. Temperance Day will be observed Nov. 8th at the Baptist church. Mrs. P. J. Blakemore entertained at dinner a number of guests celebrating the birthday anniversary of her husband, P. J. Blakemore. The Stewards, Trustees and the two Stewardess boards of Bethel A. M. NEW CASTLE, IND.

Hon. E. G. Tidrington, Grand Chancellor Commander Col. Knights of Pythias, and president of the Colored Bank at Indianapolis, and connected with several other business places, spoke here Saturday night in behalf of the colored Republican voters. He had a full house both men and women and delivered an excellent speech which was most interesting to the Negro voters who had left the Republican party to return with a larger delegation than ever. It is essential that every colored voter of New Castle should co-operate together and on the day of the election should form a line and go in a body and go to the ballot box and with one stroke of the pen vote the Republican ticket from start to finish, which is the most loyal and has done the most for our race. There cannot be too much said in behalf of Hon. E. G. Tidrington's speech, because he spoke so many true facts concerning the circumstances of the Negro today that it behooves each and every colored citizen to the best he can for his race, himself and families. So in behalf of colored voters of New Castle, be true and loyal to what is known as the Old Republican party. Rev. Benjamin Roberts, of Jackson, Mich., will occupy the pulpit at Wiley Chapel, Sunday morning. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. She will probably be here again the last of next month. Mrs. William Beard was hostess to the L. A. L. last week. A luncheon was served. Mrs. Leona Willis was hostess of the Embroidery Club last Wednesday, Mrs. A. P. Waller being the invited guest. AN APPEAL

To the Colored Voters of Knox County.

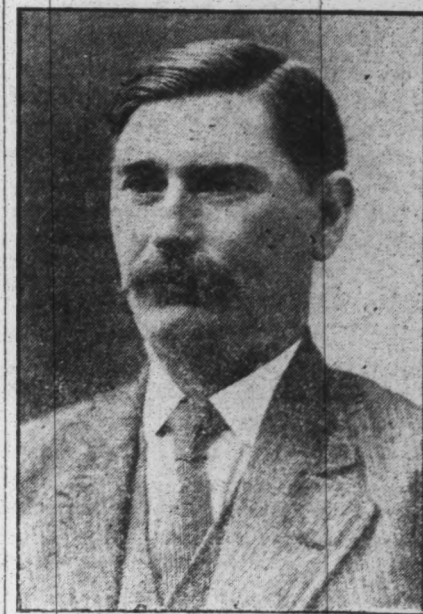

Today the American voter will be called upon to defend the rights of his country by casting his vote for the candidate of his choice. This campaign purports to be one of the most tragic campaigns since the Civil War. It will be a three-cornered fight and much will depend upon the judicious minds of the people and not on their passions. The colored voter will have to play an important roll in this fight—he will have an opportunity to make history for himself. He should not forget that his vote has been seriously considered among the different parties. In many instances he has been questioned as to his ability to form a right

POPULAR CANDIDATE

JOB FREEMAN.

Job Freeman, of Terre Haute, Republican nominee for Treasurer of State, is one of the best known coal operators in Indiana. His treatment of his employees has always been so fair that the miners of Indiana are now enthusiastically supporting his candidacy. A few years ago Mr. Freeman gave a handsome new residence in the city of Linton to the miners for a hospital. The need for such an institution had long been felt, as the nearest modern hospital to this mining field was at Terre Haute, and the time necessary to carry a wounded miner to that city often cost a life. Mr. Freeman is one of the most popular men ever presented by a party for a State office. His business experience and success make him an ideal candidate for this highly important office.

JUDGE QUINCY A. MYERS

Quincy Alden Myers was born near Logansport, Cass county, September 1, 1853. His paternal grandfather was a pioneer farmer, and his own father a farmer, stockman and lumberman. Judge Myers' mother was the daughter of James Justice, also a pioneer farmer of Cass county. Judge Myers attended the country schools and worked on the farm in the summer, until at the age of fourteen he entered the Presbyterian Academy at Logansport to prepare for college. He graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., with the class address to the president in June, 1875, with the degree of A. B.

He at once began the study of law in the office of the late Dubitt C. Justice, of Logansport, who in 1876 formed a partnership with Hon. M. Winfield, and young Myers went into that office.

QUINCY A. MYERS

His industry and capacity for work were the subject of comment by all who knew him, and his proficiency such that, in the autumn of 1875, he was made Deputy City Attorney of Logansport, at a time when the office was important.

He graduated from Albany Law School, Albany, N. Y., in June, 1877, as valedictorian of his class, with the degree of LL. B. He received the degree of Master of Arts from Dartmouth College in June, 1878.

By the time of his graduation from the law school Mr. Winfield and Mr.

Justice had dissolved their relation, and young Myers had arranged to go to the University of Leipzig, Germany, to complete his German education, and take a course in the civil law of the continent, when he received a telegram from Mr. Winfield, inviting him to a partnership in a lucrative business. This partnership continued until June, 1882, when Mr. Myers formed a partnership with Hon. John C. Nelson, retiring judge of the Cass Superior Court, with whom he continued in business until his election to the supreme bench of the State, in the election of 1908, the firm in the meantime having in 1903 taken in Mr. Chas. E. Yariott. Judge Myers' position on the supreme bench has been one of marked credit to himself, and of distinction in the profession. He is characterized by a geniality and a good nature, and disposition to go out of his way to help others, which, coupled with his ability and high character, have commended him to the profession and the people of the State to an unusual degree.

He is one of the most industrious and diligent of men, careful, deliberative, firm and self-poised, and of the most unswerving integrity.

His career on the supreme bench has been especially marked by his opinions on questions of public importance, such as transportation, safety appliance, employers' liability, factory and mining laws. He has been city attorney, county attorney and for thirteen years was a member of the school board of Logansport, during which time many fine buildings were erected in that city, to the erection of which, it is said, he gave his personal supervision. He was Republican presidential elector in the Eleventh Congressional District in 1900, and is president of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology, having in its active membership many of the leading professional men of the nation.

Judge Myers is a Republican, but it is said of him that while active in local politics, he never offended any man of opposite politics by word or act, and while firm in his own views, has always been courteous to and respectful of the opinions of others.

He is a candidate for re-election, and deserves the support of the profession and the people of this State, without regard to politics. In his position he has known no politics, and if a non-partisan judiciary is desired in this State, as we believe it is, Judge Myers is to be commended, and should be elected on that ground, coupled with his eminent fitness and his character.
